Written by Samuel Zimmerman
Wednesday, 14 April 2010 15:26

The haunting Irish ghost film, THE ECLIPSE (read our previous feature here) is currently releasing across the U.S. thanks to Magnolia Pictures, and today FANGORIA brings you the first of four installments of a video interview with director Conor McPherson and star Ciaran Hinds. Read on for more!

THE ECLIPSE tells the story of Michael Farr (Hinds) a widower raising his two children alone and plagued by strange and eerie happenings in his home. As an annual literary festival rolls into town, Michael volunteers and is assigned to look after Lena Morelle (Iben Hjejle), an author of books concerning the supernatural. Believing she can help and happy to meet someone who will accept his fears as reality, the two soon become friendly but eventually their relationship is complicated by Lena's past fling (Aidan Quinn) and Michael's escalating haunting.

In this first clip, FANGORIA's Tony Timpone chats with McPherson and Hinds about THE ECLIPSE and the importance and recurrence of ghost stories in Irish culture. Check it out!

{flv}eclipse01{/flv}

This Friday, THE ECLIPSE continues its rollout in the following cities:

Sacramento, CA: Crest Theatre

San Francisco, CA: Embarcadero Center Cinema 5

Highland Park, IL: Renaissance Place

Tenafly, NJ: Tenafly Cinema 4

Bronxville, NY: Bronxville Cinemas 3

Manhasset, NY: Manhasset Cinemas 3

White Plains, NY: Cinema 100 Quad

Dallas, TX: Magnolia Theatre - Dallas

Salt Lake City, UT: Tower Theatre

Seattle, WA: Harvard Exit Theatre

Check back tomorrow for Part 2!