Written by Chris Alexander
Friday, 19 October 2012 09:33

Fangovision 3D stereographer Jason Liquori and iFANGORIA are proud to announce the first piece of totally original 3D programming for FANGORIA.com! DARK DEADLY DIMENSIONS will bring you horror and sci-fi venues and news in mind bending 3D, so you can get as close to the action as possible without leaving the comfort and safety of your home.

And while 3D conversions are fun, DARK DEADLY DIMENSIONS is actually shot in 3D to give you the maximum effect.

Our first location is the infamous, "Myers House, NC", a lived-in tribute to the house made famous in the original HALLOWEEN. Meet the owner, caretaker and resident, Kenny Caperton. Follow the adventures of Triple D's reporter, Aaliyah Mattison in her first ever episode.

Most of all, remember your FANGOVISION 3D glasses, found inside the pages of FANGORIA #316 (you can order that back issue here)! If you don't have FANGOVISION 3D glasses, any pair of red and blue 3D glasses will work.

DARK DEADLY DIMENSIONS will be coming this Saturday, October 20th to your Fangovision player in 3D.

Then Join us the following Saturday, Oct 27th, for the online premiere of Liquori's ONYX ORIGINS, starring Debbie Rochon, in 3D! It's a Halloween weekend double feature with the Ed Wood Classic, PLAN 9 FROM OUTER SPACE, also in FANGOVISION 3D.

Here at FANGORIA labs, we don’t mess around when it comes to good old fashioned, gimmick-laden goodness. Log on, have fun…