One of the best horror films of 2011 is easily Ben Wheatley's KILL LIST. Scary, weird and entirely engrossing, the film leaves you speechless. It opens in the UK this Friday, September 2. Here's where you can find it...

Wheatley posted the list of cinemas across the United Kingdom hosting the film. KILL LIST concerns Jay (Neil Maskell), an out-of-work contract killer buckle under financial strains and accept another assignment, plunging him into something utterly horrifying. Michael Smiley and MyAnna Buring co-star.

IFC has KILL LIST stateside, but no word yet on a date. For more, here's Fangoria's review of the film from SXSW.

On a slightly separate note: Wheatley's excellent debut, DOWN TERRACE is on Netflix Instant. Check it out!
