A couple of genre titles were peppered throughout last week's SXSW feature lineup announcement, but today brings the big haul, the Midnighters. Featuring two highly anticipated world premieres, some intriguing new talent and even a couple of the most buzzed about horror titles from Sundance, this year looks to be nothing short of stupendous.

Leading the pack in excitement is the third film in the much-loved [REC] series, [REC]: GENESIS, as well as MARTYRS' director Pascal Laugier's new Jessica Biel-starring THE TALL MAN, found-footage anthology V/H/S, Don Coscarelli's JOHN DIES AT THE END, the Irish feral-children flick CITADEL and space-Nazi extravaganza IRON SKY.

Here's the full lineup:

THE AGGRESSION SCALE, Director: Steven C. Miller, Screenwriter: Ben Powell

4 hitmen + $500,000 of stolen cash + 1 family = WAR

CITADEL (Ireland, Scotland), Director/Screenwriter: Ciarán Foy

An agoraphobic father teams up with a renegade priest to save his daughter from the clutches of a gang of twisted feral children.

GIRLS AGAINST BOYS, Director/Screenwriter: Austin Chick

A psychological thriller about two girls on a killing spree. With edgy and ironic humor and a darkly meditative tone, it is also a coming-of-age story about a girl learning how the world really works.

Cast: Danielle Panabaker, Nicole LaLiberte, Liam Aiken, Michael Stahl-David, Andrew Howard

INTRUDERS (Spain, UK), Director: Juan Carlos Fresnadillo, Screenwriters: Nicolás Casariego, Jaime Marques

The haunting story of two children living in different countries, each visited nightly by a faceless being who wants to take possession of them.
