Directors Luca Boni and Marco Ristori have once again posted new, behind the scenes footage from the impending Italian zombie movie (I just love typing that) ZOMBIE MASSACRE.

Based on an upcoming video game of the same name, "the movie explores a dangerous and exciting scenario of a military intervention by way of a discreetly delivered nuclear bomb. Can they succeed in averting a growing infestation of the undead, or is it too late for the small European town in which the events unfold?"

The EATERS filmmakers shared with us this morning and now we're sharing with you. ENJOY!
