Spring break gets bloody—and funny—at the next FANGORIA event! Fango will host a free screening of the unrated horror/comedy GIRLS GONE DEAD on Monday, July 16 at 7:45 p.m. This East Coast premiere will be held at New York City’s Cinema Village (22 East 12th Street, off University Place). Stars of the Howard Stern radio show will be attending, including that diminutive maniac Beetlejuice and Sal the Stockbroker (tentative), who appear in GIRLS GONE DEAD in entertaining roles. The film’s creative team and the HOWARD TV crew will also be participating in a night of ribald Fango fun.

The Fango screening of GIRLS GONE DEAD will be a free show; to obtain tickets, send an e-mail to fangoriascreening@gmail.com. You must list “GIRLS GONE DEAD” as your subject line and provide us your full name. Offer is good for you and one guest, and names will be checked at the door. Offer is first come, first served, and we will confirm your RSVP. Seating is not guaranteed, however. This advance preview is presented by our pals at Entertainment One, who release GIRLS GONE DEAD on DVD July 17; other talent appearing at the screening will include co-directors Michael A. Hoffman (ROT: REUNION OF TERROR, SCARY TALES) and Aaron T. Wells, writer Meghan Jones (SPRING BREAK MASSACRE), producer Ryan Dee and other special guests.

Prepare yourself for babes, beaches and blood in GIRLS GONE DEAD. When a group of sexy high-school friends reunite for spring break during their freshman year of college, all they are looking for is a skinnydipping good time. Instead, they find a sadistic, bloodthirsty killer wielding a medieval war hammer has targeted them to be his next victims... GIRLS GONE DEAD’s
